

Susan G. Murrmann, MD FACOG FAAMFM founded McDonald Murrmann Center for Wellness and Health 360 and McDonald Murrmann Center for Laser and Aesthetics with the belief that the two clinics create the right balance in women's lives. Her practice of integrative gynecology and aesthetics has reinvented women's healthcare 360° to include all aspects of women's health physically, aesthetically and spiritually. As a minimally invasive surgeon Dr. Murrmann has an extensive background and research with all energy devices. Her practice has come full circle with the addition of radiofrequency energy to treat the aesthetic and functional issues of the vagina. She recently was one of the authors of the "Evaluation of the Temperature Controlled Radio Frequency for the Treatment of Vulvovaginal Laxity" and a review paper on energy sources for vaginal rejuvenation. Dr. Murrmann recently completed a fellowship in anti-aging and functional medicine and is certified in Peptide Therapy and Fasting, Nutrition, and Longevity medicine.
